Principal's Note

Dear Students, Parents and Well-Wishers,

This edition captures the many ways in which our children learn, grow and shine beyond the classroom.

We begin by celebrating our guiding lights—our teachers. Their dedication, care and inspiration nurture young minds and create meaningful learning experiences. Thank you for being such great teachers.

Our celebrations also connected us with our cultural and linguistic heritage through Telangana Language Day, Hindi Diwas, Krishnashtami, Dussehra, etc. Each occasion highlighted the enduring values of unity, compassion, truth, respect and cultural pride.

Healthy Food Week reminded our children that a healthy body supports a healthy and active mind— "Mens sana in corpore sano."

Every achievement, whether big or small, deserves celebration. Our CCA activities provided wonderful opportunities for students to discover their talents, build confidence and celebrate their individual strengths.

The ongoing Term 1 Examinations mark an important academic milestone, encouraging students to reflect on their learning, recognise their strengths and strive for continuous improvement.

These memorable moments remind us that education is about learning, growing, creating and inspiring. I sincerely appreciate our teachers' dedication, the support of our management and parents, and our students' enthusiasm.

"Victory is not merely defeating evil; it is choosing goodness every day."

Wishing you all a Happy Dussehra and a joyful vacation!

Happy Reading!

The Lesson Beyond the Textbook
A story about Something valuable learning from a teacher
In our School their was kind and stric teacher Morning a teacher noticed that a student was sitting quietly and looking worried. When the teacher asked what was, the Student said,"I afraid of making mistakes."
The Teacher Smiled and Said," Do not be afraid of mistakes. Every teacher us something new."
The student was very happy. He understood that success does not come from being perfect. It comes from tying learning and never giving up
That day, the student learned Something that was not written in any textbook - a lesson about courage, patience and believing in yourself
A good teacher doesn't just teach lesson he teaches life
Beyond the Textbook
Believe Learn Grow
Moral
A GoogleTeacher does not only teach lessons from books; a good teacher teaches us how to face life."

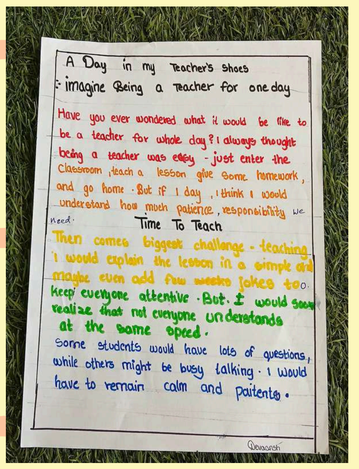

A Teacher is Like a Light House
A teacher is like a lighthouse because a lighthouse guides ships safely through the sea, while a teacher guides students in the right direction. A teacher helps us understand difficult lessons and encourages us to learn from our mistakes. Teachers show us the difference between right and wrong and inspire us to work hard. Just as a lighthouse gives light in darkness, a teacher gives us knowledge and confidence.

Genesis School
My Wonderful Guiding Teacher, Vimala Madam
By Nivansh, Class 4
My name is Nivansh and I am a 4th class student at Genesis School. Every student has a teacher who stays in his heart. For me, that teacher is Vimala Madam. She teaches us with love and patience, and she has taught me things that go beyond my books.
Vimala Madam teaches in a very simple way. When I do not understand a lesson, she explains it again and again, using easy words and examples from daily life. She never scolds us for asking questions. She says that asking questions is the first step to learning, so we are never afraid to speak in her class.
She also teaches us good habits. She tells us to be honest, to be on time, to respect our elders, and to help our friends. She says that marks are important, but good character is more important. Whenever a student feels shy or sad, she encourages him and gives him confidence. She has done this for me many times.
Because of her, I now study with more interest and believe in myself. I want to grow up to be a good person and make her proud.
I am very thankful to Vimala Madam. She is not just my teacher, she is my guide. I will always respect her and remember her lessons.

A Day in my Teacher's Shoes
Imagine Being a Teacher for one day
Have you ever wondered what it would be like to be a teacher for whole day? I always thought being a teacher was easy - just enter the Classroom, teach a lesson give some homework, and go home. But if I day, I think I would understand how much patience, responsibility we need.
Time To Teach
Then comes biggest challenge - teaching. I would explain the lesson in a simple and maybe even add few useless jokes too. Keep everyone attentive. But I would soon realize that not everyone understands at the same speed.
Some students would have lots of questions, while others might be busy talking. I would have to remain calm and patient.

Once upon a time, in a small village, there was a school called Sunshine school. Among all the teachers, there was one special teacher named Mrs. Anagha.
In her class, there was a boy named Arjun. He was quiet and often sat at the back of the classroom. He was afraid to answer questions because he thought he was not clever. One day, Mrs. Anagha asked the class children, what would you like to become when you grow up? Everyone raised their hands. "I want to be a doctor," said one child. "I want to be a pilot," said another. But Arjun remained silent. Mrs. Anagha gently asked, and asked what you Arjun?" Arjun looked down and whispered "I don't know, Maam. I am not so magical at anything." Mrs. Anagha smiled and said "Never say that. Sometimes a seed does not know that it can be become a tree." The next day she gave the children a challenge. Build something using only waste materials. Arjun collected cardboard, bottle caps, ice cream sticks and old newspapers. He worked quietly for few days. On the third day, he brought his creation to class. It was a beautiful model of a village with a house, trees, roads and a small water-pump system. Everyone was amazed. Mrs. Anagha looked at Arjun and said "See Arjun, talent was always there. You only needed someone to believe in you." From that day, Arjun became more confident. He started asking questions, helping his classmates and participating in competitions. Years later, Arjun became a famous engineer. Whenever someone asked him what his success he always gave the same answer. My teacher did not give me success, she gave me something more important - belief in myself.

MY CLASSROOM - MY SECOND HOME
THE ARCHITECT BEHIND THE MAGIC
When we step through the school gates every morning, we don't just enter a building made of bricks and blackboards. We are stepping into our Second home. If our classroom is a sanctuary where we learn, laugh and grow, then our teacher is the heart and soul of this home.
A house is made of walls, but a home is built on love, safety, and comfort. In the school ecosystem, it is the teacher who transforms a clinical room of 50 benches in to a warm, vibrant space where lives flies.
The Ultimate Homemaker and Guardian
Just like parents at home, teachers take on the role of our primary guardians within the school walls. The don't just execute a curriculum, they notice the quiet student in the back row, comfort the one having the bad day, and celebrate our smallest victories. By bringing empathy into the daily routine, the create a safe psychological haven where failing is just seen as a stepping stone to learning.
Thankyou to all our teachers for turning rows of desks into a family, and for making our classroom the warmest second home we could ever ask for.

My Inspiration
My Teachers are my inspiration. They became my inspiration because of their way of teaching, like way of explaining, writing etc, because of this all I also like to do Teaching job. The Teachers are Something wonderful and precious like a Diamond. The Teachers tell us to be good all that the teachers tell would help us in the future for example they tell us to be good if we are in a job we should be good. They will scold us for your goood in the future. They conduct CT (Class Test) for us to know the lessons, chapters perfectly and the way of explanation they explain clearly without doubts when I grow up I will tell that my inspiration was my teacher. I like to explain every student I will also explain like my teacher would.

Magazine
My teacher taught me much more than first lessons from textbook. She taught me to be kind, respectful and helpful to others. She taught me that making mistakes is okay, but learning from them is important. She encouraged me to ask questions, think independently and never give up when something feels difficult. I learned the importance of discipline, responsibility, teamwork and having respect. My teacher always motivates me to believe in myself and do my best. The lessons I learn from teacher will stay with me not only in the classroom, but through out my life. Thank you, dear teaching me not just what to learn, but how to become a better person.

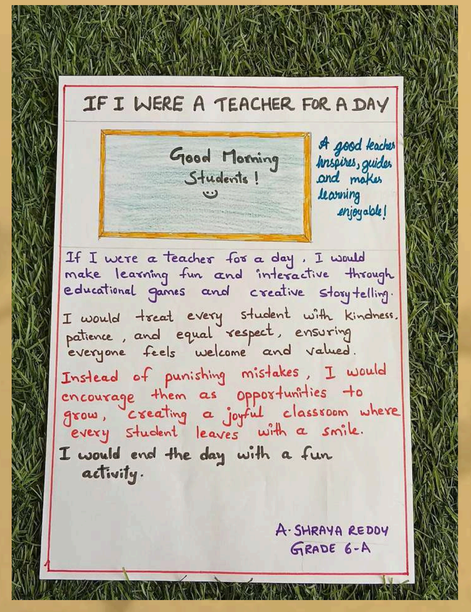

Teachers Play An important role in our lives. They help us learn new things, understand difficult subjects, and develop good habits. A good teacher is Patient, kind and supportive. They encourage students to work hard, believe in themselves and acheive their goals. Teachers are not only responsible for teaching lessons, but also for guiding and inspiring students. They teach us important values such as honesty, respect, discipline and kindness. We appreciate our teachers for their hard work and for helping us become better people.

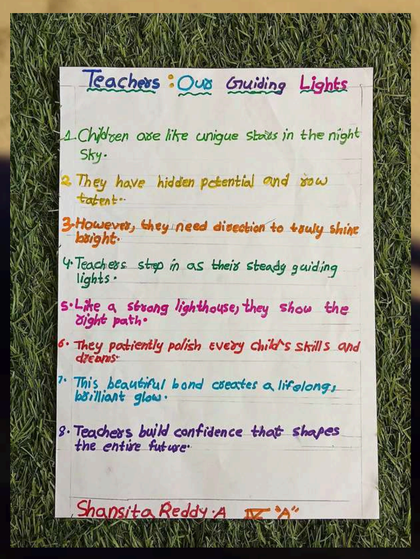

THEREFORE TEACHERS ARE THE ARCHITECTS OF LIFE

GREEN COLOUR DAY

Our staff recently attended the "Science of People Leadership" workshop conducted by Burlington. The session provided valuable insights into effective leadership and the importance of fostering positive relationships in the workplace. The workshop emphasized two key qualities: appreciation and patience. Appreciating the efforts and contributions of others helps build trust, motivation, and a positive work environment. Patience enables leaders to support and guide individuals through their learning and growth journey with understanding and empathy. The training was both insightful and inspiring, reminding us that successful leadership is built on valuing people, encouraging their efforts, and supporting their development with patience and care.

Dussehra or Vijayadashami

The Day of Victory

Why Do We Celebrate It?

Dussehra, also known as Vijayadashami, meaning "the day of victory," is celebrated after the nine nights of Navratri. It marks the triumph of positive forces and the culmination of the Navratri celebrations.

The Significance of Navratri

Navratri is dedicated to the Divine Feminine. In different parts of India, it is celebrated in honour of various forms of the Goddess, such as Chamundeshwari in Karnataka and Durga in Bengal.
The nine days of Navratri are associated with the three gunas—tamas, rajas, and sattva.

First three days

Associated with tamas and fierce forms such as Durga and Kali.

Next three days

Associated with rajas and Lakshmi, symbolising prosperity and abundance.

Final three days

Associated with sattva and Saraswati, representing knowledge and enlightenment.

The tenth day

Dussehra, signifies victory and the culmination of this spiritual journey.

Devotion and Reverence

Be reverent towards everything that contributes to our lives—the earth, air, water, food, people, and, most importantly, our body and mind. Such reverence and devotion can help us live with greater awareness and approach our endeavours with a sense of involvement and responsibility.

Celebrate with Joy and Love

Traditionally, Dussehra was celebrated with music, dance, and community gatherings. It continues to be celebrated with great enthusiasm in many parts of India.

A Festival for Everyone

Vijayadashami is a festival that brings people together in a spirit of victory, devotion, joy, and love.

Sadhguru:
"It is my wish and my blessings that all of you should celebrate Dussehra with total involvement, joy and love."
